

Sri Garden goes red

STUDENTS at Sri Garden International are often encouraged to give back to society in any way that they can. Very often students give their time to care for those less fortunate by volunteering in various after school activities. This is all part of the Sri Garden International school's core values where students are taught to respect and care for those who are less fortunate.

Recently, the school initiated a 'Wear Red to School' programme where students were allowed to wear something red while contributing RM5 to the National Kidney Foundation.

This initiative raised RM10,000 for the foundation to aid in their various life-saving initiatives particularly to sustain dialysis operations, maintenance of 400 dialysis machines and subsidy of dialysis treatment and medications for the unemployed.

Educators of Sri Garden International always emphasise that anyone can make a difference in someone's life just by showing that they care or by merely showing support.

At the end of every event or activity, students are encouraged to ponder on the many lessons that can be learned from it. Through the events and activities held in Sri Garden, students get the opportunity to make new friends, reach out to the community, and learn new skills.

It also enhances and protects the students' mental and physical health. Through their learning experiences in school, students go out into world with a different perspective and view that makes them balanced and wholesome individuals.
